

OPEN CALL licht.blicke.

It's that time again: licht.blicke, the international theater festival for young audiences, will take place in Nuremberg from February 24th to 28th, 2025. Since 2001, the Gostner Hoftheater has been inviting extraordinary theater productions from all over the world every two years to bring them closer to Nuremberg's young audience. Applications for the 13th edition of the festival are possible until April 30, 2024.

Whether spoken theater, dance or performance, puppetry, circus or street theater: licht.blicke is open to a wide variety of ideas and concepts. The festival aims to represent a cross-section of the different aesthetics and forms of the international youth theater landscape. We are looking for professional theater productions for a young audience (age: 11 to 18 years) that think outside the box, show innovative concepts and convey new perspectives.

Applications are only possible digitally until April 30, 2024 at <https://forms.office.com/e/uKhgwnzkbV>.
